Honorono, June Sta, 1894:

In connection with the passing of the Public Health Ordinance the question of making compulsory the provision of backyards to all new or reconstructed houses was warmly discussed. The interests of property, however, prevailed over considerations of public health, and the clause regarding backyards was struck out. When the Building Ordinance was subsequently brought up the idea of introducing the backyard clause in that measure was again entertained, but was given up in favour of another measure by which it was hoped the sanitary condition of the Colony as regards the admission of light and air to buildings might be more effectually improved, namely, the Crown Lands Resumption Ordinance. In all new leases granted by the Crown covenants relating to the provision of backyards are inserted, and in the agreement between the Government and the marine lot holders with respect to the Praya Reclamation it is plague. provided that all buildings to be erected varying from 10ft. 20 15ft. according to the depth of the house. Under leases granted prior to 1887, however, houses may still be built back to back and without any provision whatever as regards light and air except such as may be admitted from the front, and lanes as narrow as 15 feet being allowed it necessarily follows that the amount of ventilation from that quarter cannot be very great. No wonder that when the germs of the plague were once intro. duced into Taipingshan they spread like wild fire. When the Crown Lands Resumption Ordinance was introduced the intention was that the more insanitary portions of landlords having the option of effecting the improvements themselves or of allowing the Crown to resume their property. Five years have elapsed and absolutely nothing has been done, the Ordinance having been allowed to become a dead letter. The preamble recites that" Whereas the dwelling houses on "certain portions of land under lease from the "Crown especially in the City of Victoria "are of insanitary construction as regards "conditions of air and light and it is ex-"pedient that the Governor should be em-"powered to acquire or resume such lands "and buildings compulsorily with a view to "the erection of improved houses or dwell-"ings thereon," stc. By that recital the Go. vernment openly acknowledged a great duty and responsibility resting upon it, and for five years it has neglected that duty and responsibility absolutely and completely. Had the work of reconstruction been taken in hand five years ago the greater part of Taipingshap might have been rebuilt by this time and the Colony have been spared the visitation of the plague. The financial comparatively light had the work been to the population inconsiderable. Now the reconstruction of the whole district has to be taken in hand at once. But where is the money to come from and what is to be done with the population? Both difficulties are of course capable of solution, if they be at cept for the inconvenience of having to raise the money all at once instead of gradually. every day. Property in Taipingshau is at the moment almost valueless, and when the Government resumes it the value at the moment will be the basis of the compensation payable to the ing along Queen's Road, just opposite Thomas's continues of course the plague may be consider pect but unfavourable in another. The deaths for owners, and quite rightly, for it is by the owners' own neglect that their property has carrying in her hand, and then ran away. There become depreciated in value.

When the Crown Lands Resumption Ordinance was introduced Governor Sir. WILLIAM DES VŒUX, baving explained that he thought the clauses in the Public Health Bill on the subject of backyards would probably have created greater evils than those they were intended to remove, went on tomonth in sickrooms and infected districts is say that he was nevertheless quite satisfied speech is worth reproducing:-

I went myself and saw some twenty Chinese houses of a type which certainly struck me as very remarkable and which I am told by old residents in China does not exist in China itself—I mean open to objections anch as houses in China itself are not open to. That houses should exist here, holding a vast number of occupants only some two or three of whom have any light or air during the whole twenty-four hoursoptor air at the hapk, and that the whole of the many tonante in the building except those estually in the front part of it should be absolutely in the dark, without any opening to the air at all, is certainly not only new in my experience but is something which think the Government is bound to make an effort

Such is the state of things which the Government has allowed to continue for five years after obtaining legislative authority to remedy it. Governor DES VCOX. went on to say that as the clauses as to backyards which it had been proposed to insert in the Building Ordinance, while causing a great deal of irritation and friction, would only there was not some other means of achieving the same end that would do no barm to any- named Si Ganting on the other, out of a drunken body. The Crown Lands Resumption Ordin- brawl, in which some of Si Gauting's people ance was the outcome. Whether it would be effective, he went ou to say, time alone could trying, and supposing on trying it in certhey could simply draw in their horns. Well the experiment has never been tried; but it has got to be tried now-either that or some other experiment directed to the same and. Sir William DES VOUX explained the experiment he proposed to try as follows:-I propose that we should take a certain number houses in this exceedingly insanitary condition, resume them on behalf of the Crown, giving the owners very full compensation, taking avery precaution they should have the utmost compensation, then rebuild I address with communications addressed to the ling the houses ourselves, or, as I think would be pre-Editor, not for publication, but as evidence of good ferable, selling the land with permission to build houses of a kind and construction such as to matisfy sanitary requirements. Those who know a great leal about the subject think it highly possible tha the Government may lose nothing by this; that the run on these improved houses will be such that the Government will be repaid for the less of land by these backyards. That remains to be proved; but even if the Government does lose something I

In the course of discussion a plea for consideration put in on behalf of absentee owners, cluding "persons who depend for their "incomes on small properties they have here, ladies at home; for instance." one will, of course, be sorry for those who may suffer prounically by the measures it is necessary to take, but the case is eminently one, in which the public good must be placed before private interests. And after all, the property owners who suffer loss are much less to be pitied than the families who have been deprived of their breadwinners by the While discussing the length of the on the Reclamation shall have yards notice to be given Governor DES Vœux made use of a remark which possesses peculiar significance at the present time. It will take some time before the whole of the population can be removed to new abodes and time will also be required for the elaboration of the scheme of reconstruction. ... When the Government bas finally Galloping Dick, br & Gatopin - Lady Gower, decided to resume the whole of the infected district and replace the present disgracefully insanitary houses with dwellings wherein the tenants may lead a healthy existence the manner in which the old houses should be dealt with will not be a very serious consideration from a pecuniary point of view and to burn the district would perhaps be the che pest as well as the most sanitary way of clearing it. Whatever may be the decision on this point, however, no time ought to be lost in removing the whole of the population from the infected district.

Mr. Francis then touched upon the proceedings of the meeting of the special commission of medical m n. e said that the sense of that meeting was endorse all that the Permanent Committee had done, and as a result of the meeting the Committee would go on lo the same lines as they had pursued from the first. The Commission had expressed the opinion that Wanchai should be thoroughly oleansed, that infected houses should be disinfected and closed, but not cleansed, and that the sick should be promptly conveyed from the houses to the hospitals. There was no suggestion made at that meeting which the Pormanent Committee had not had in their minds. They knew what it was best to do, but they had o do only as much as they had the means to do. The Acting Director of Public Works asked whether any special inspection had made of the public landeries at which European clothes were washed. He believed many Europeans were trying to do their washing in their own houses, but it was very important, he thought, that an inspection of the laundries should be

The PRESIDENT, in reply to the question, said that the Sanitary staff had been so fully engaged that no thought had been given to the laundries. but now that attention had been directed to the matter the Secretary would endeavour to make special inspection. Mr. HUMPHREYS rose to aldress the Board.

He proceeded to make some observations relative to the appointment of the Permanent Committee, and said that the only wis take he thought he had made was not to have asked that the Sanitary Board should also meet daily in order that fresh suggestions occurring to individual members could be made.

The PRE IDENT reminded Mr. Humphreys hat at the last meeting it was distinctly stated that the Permanent Committee would always be very glad for any member of the Bo rd to attend and tender engacetions. Mr. HUMPHREYS remembered the invitation

He then asked whether the old clothes found in afected houses were disjuffected before removal. f an infected house the clothes were not rewas shut up. In houses not ordered to be shut he was willing to be handed over to the witness. np the clothes had always been disinfected before removal, but now they were taken to a furnace and immediately burnt.

Mr. HUMPHREYS next pressed the necessity of a liberal use of disinfectants, and said they ought to get large quantities of chloride of lime. Mr. FRANCIS said that the Chinese Paper Company had presented the permanent Committee with 5,000 pounds of lime and had offered them as much more as they required. This concluded the meeting.

In a few places where the glass remained intact, the atmos here was almost insupportable, but the attendants appeared unconscious of it, although I hear that it is arranged that these be relieved after two days' daty. Since beginning this letter I am thankful to rend in your paper of this morning that Dr. Lowson, who will I trust not be himself overcome and fall a victim through futigue, was busy yesterday in the removal of a portion of these people to other quarters. So far very good, but he should be permitted to do more Quarters only, however suitable, without frequently administered, are wholly insufficient. The Chinese do not love nursing and attendunce on the sick. They hate and dread disease, and this, until removed by teaching and example wholly disqualifies them for this noble work. The concequences are manisfest in this hospital under purely native control. Perhaps I did not happen to be there at meal times (I was more fortunate at the Konnsdylown branch of the Civil Hospital), but I saw no food either administered or in preparation. The pieces of tork and basins of rico I supposed to be for the attendants, who seemed well provided There were medicines for the sick, severely unpalatable, after the old English fashion. These were copiously administered, many bearing the dall red faces of the overflowing stream, no friendly moistened towel being present to remove them. The patients one and all lay in the clothes in which they had been brought. The ill-concealed marks of excrets obtraded themselves apon notice on every hand. The only bedding a mat and a blankemor thick rug. One young child ier its heat, had kicked off it little trousers and upon my approach one of the attendants considerately covered its nakedness with a soldier's thick winter blanket folded four-fold to adapt it to the narrow space upon the floor. Another, in its sickness, threw up two worms of nine inches long. The attendant came with a broom to sweep them away, but I called the doctor's attention to them, hoping that this poor child might possibly be a case of mistaken identity. It is quite clear the poissnoss gas issues from There were a good many bed boards and mats, certain particular localities, otherwise the whole blankets and rugs, and crates full of Chinese erockery all glazed on one side only, and therefore perhaps not the best adapted for hospital use, but almost everything else was conspicaous, by its absence. Indeed the place altogether was just such a hospital as was common in England five hundred years ago, and the medicines of much the same characters as those at that period in use in Brigain. PRONUNCIATION. An Anglo-Chinese Dictionary, published at the die Daily Press Office, Hongkong. . o.Fory comprehensiveness and practical services this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of later ears been compelled to coin to express the numerous objests in I machinary, photography, telegraphy and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extense. Each and every word is Hongkong and Kowleen Wharf and Godownfully illustrated and explained, forming exercises Company's Godowns at Kowloon, where each for students of a most instructive nature. Both consignment will be corted out mark by mark the Court and Punti pronunciations are given and delivery can be obtained as soon as the goods the accounts being carefully marked on the best are lauded; principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margine and vacant spaces which have neretofore characterized Chinese publications. To illustrate the vest scope of the work the following facts are submitted for consideration :-Chalmers Vocabulary contains about 16,000 Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst To be sold Wholesale, Betail, and on Instal-this work contains more than 50,000 Englishment Plan. Apply to words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese characters. Again, despite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely requites examples to display the various appli-citions and equivalents of different words which have one general meaning. Of these examples this work contains more than five times as many as any other Dictionary hitherto pub-For practical purposes the arrangement of the work is so complete, that a reference to its pages qualies a person who understands English to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect the work will be found indispensable to all Europeans residing in China, and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully with which very few indeed of them are perfectly acquainted To parties resident in England and interested

China it cannot but be invaluable occasion It comprises upwards of two thousand large 4 Vols Imperati Quarto, Price, $20. A Large REDUCTION in PRICE is made to Purchasers of SIX or more Copies. LONDON:
